Christ Church Files Application For Elderly Project

An application seeking $3,777,000 in federal funds for an elderly and handicapped housing project for Andover was filed with HUD Tuesday by Christ Episcopal Church.

The program, which has the "enthusiastic endorsement" of one selectman, is among a dozen or more such proposals for which application has been made under a special governmental plan.

The application was made on Tuesday by consultants for the parish, O.K.M. Associates of Boston.

Richard M. Allen, chairman of the Elderly and Handicapped Housing Committee of the church, and the Rev. J. Edison Pike, rector, presented a plan to the selectmen which calls for the church to provide some initial funding for such a project, and noted that the parish has already appropriated $10,000.

Allen explains that the federally funded program provides for institutions or communities to apply for funds to provide housing units for the elderly and handicapped and allows architectural freedom to be combined with the outreach of the parish to meet a need within a community.

There is an expressed need in Andover, it was pointed out, with the Andover Housing Authority having close to 100 applications from senior citizens for the units within the three projects under their jurisdiction.

The AHA was given permission at town meeting to apply for an additional project, but it is estimated that planning and funding of such a project would take five years at least.

Allen said that the parish committee had not made any studies on site selection as yet, but had simply been working on advancing the plans to obtain the funding.

There will be only two such projects funded in the state, chosen from more than a dozen applications.

The project would include 100 units. Design and format of the project is still to be worked out with the parish and consultants involved, along with the town itself.

The program allows for that freedom in developing the planning.

Such items as greenhouses, terraced or tiered gardens, congregate living quarters, food service provisions, etc., are allowed under the provisions of the federal grant.

Allen and Mr. Pike emphasized to the selectmen in their presentation that it was the desire of the parish to have the community totally involved in the project, if the funding is approved.

Mr. Pike explained that the church would be more or less

Tribute To Frank

Benjamin M. Brown of American Legion Post 8, who delivered a eulogy to Andover's Mr. Veteran, Frank Markey, who died last week, salutes during moment of silence in tribute to the late veterans agent and civic leader during Memorial Day observance Monday.

'Mr. Veteran' Is Remembered

A fitting tribute was paid to the late Francis P. Markey Monday morning during Andover's annual Memorial Day observance at Memorial Auditorium.

Commander Benjamin M. Brown, of American Legion Post 8, spoke briefly of Mr. Markey, known as Andover's Mr. Veteran, telling of his community service as well as his assistance to veterans of all wars during his tenure as Andover's veterans agent.

Markey, who had been a participant in the Memorial Day services for over 40 years, died May 19. He was the town's first veterans agent, serving on a voluntary capacity until the position was created as an of-

Bicentennial Park Dedicated

More than 300 residents stood by Sunday, as assembled companies of militia fired three volleys and a flag was raised for the first time over the new Bicentennial park across the street from South Church.

They also heard Bicentennial Commission Norma Gammon dedicate a bronze plaque in memory of the 22 Andover men who died in the Revolution, then thank the townspeople for voting, at Town Meeting two years ago, to celebrate the Bicentennial here.

The Bicentennial, she said, had helped instill in townspeople a great deal of pride in Andover.

She concluded with a thank you to the original soldiers and quoted the plaque itself: "He fought the fight, he kept the step, loyal and brave, and true. For a free land he paid the price comrades, that day for you."

Four companies of militia — from Andover, Wilmington, Wakefield and Methuen — had mustered at Andover Common Sunday noon and paraded to the triangular park which was freshly planted with shrubs and trees donated by the Andover Garden Club.

The Rev. J. Everett Bodge, whose early predecessor at South Church had been chaplain of the original Andover Company of Militia and who had followed the soldiers to Lexington and Concord, led off with the invocation.

A historical scenario was contributed by Selectman Edward M. Harris, a member of the Bicentennial Commission and author of the book, "Andover in the American Revolution." He described how the men had left their farms and homes at the first call, and how four whose names are engraved on the plaque had soon died at Bunker Hill.

Capt. Eric Heartquist of the reactivated Andover Company dedicated the flagpole, which his group has been working for for the past two years, and Sgt. Robert Mirisola was the main spokesman for the militia.

Mrs. Pat Shaw, chairman of civic development for the Andover Garden Club, told how her group had commissioned landscape architect Joseph Hudak to design the planting at the memorial — planting which was carried out recently by members of the town Tree Department.

Silverman Heads Study Committee

Gerald R. Silverman was chosen Tuesday night to be chairman of the citizen's committee to study declining enrollments in Andover schools and possible closing of some schools.

The 25-member committee also selected E. Lester McDowell of the Sanborn PTO secretary. The organizational meeting was devoted mainly to exchanging ideas on what the committee should be doing in the coming months.

The next meeting will include a discussion of population projections.

Meanwhile, the school committee which established the study group is seeking applications from residents for a member at large from the community to make the committee more "bi-partisan." The members so far have been chosen from parents of each school.

Interested residents who do not have youngsters in Andover schools at this time are asked to contact the superintendent's office. One delegate and one alternate will be chosen from the applicants.

Water Rate Revision Under Study

The selectmen, town manager and public works director are currently assembling facts and figures, preparing to make revisions in the water rates.

Selectman, as water commissioners, would like to institute new rates to be effective as of July 1.

It is the aim of the town to have the water department operate on an almost self-sustaining basis, with at least 70 per cent of the cost of running the department borne by water users. The remaining costs are to come from general taxation.

When the town applied for an improved bond rating last fall, the amount of tax dollars apportioned to the water department was a major factor in the company not granting a Triple A rating at that time.

Water rates were revised a few years ago but recent history indicates the user cost is well below what it should be.

Hope To Have Facts For October

The committee which will look into the feasibility of providing an auditorium and arts center for the town, is hopeful that it may be able to provide some facts and figures to the October town meeting.

Robert King, drama coach at the high school, said this week that the committee would be looking into the need and how best to provide a facility for the town.

King noted that there has been considerable interest in the project since it was presented to the school committee at its meeting a week ago.

At present there are no facilities at the high school for drama productions or rehearsals, as well as facilities for music groups to rehearse or put on concerts for the total student body or general public.

Seminar For Area Police

Over 30 officers from communities throughout the northeastern area of the state are attending a two-day seminar on rape being given at the Andover police station.

Dr. Jay Elyrman is giving the seminar.

Selectman To Meet June 13

The next regular meeting of the selectmen is set for Monday, June 13 at 7:30 p.m. in the meeting room at Memorial Hall library.

The board is expected to elect the fifth member of the board at that session. There are ten applicants for the post vacated through the resignation of Alan F. French in April.

Doyle At Langley

Now serving at Langley AFB, VA., with Headquarters, Tactical Air Command, is Major Edward T. Doyle, son of Mr. and Mrs. William P. Doyle of 7 Foster Circle, Andover.

Major Doyle, an air operations officer with the aeronautical rating of senior navigator, was previously assigned at Nellis AFB, Nev.

A 1956 graduate of Central Catholic High School in Lawrence, the major received his B. A. degree in 1961 from Merrimack College in North Andover, and earned his M. S. degree in 1971 at the University of Arkansas.

Students who are more proficient go on to more sophisticated equipment such as video-tape recorders, television cameras, and 8 mm cameras. West Stud

For the second time since 1951, students at West Junior High School in Andover, have made a generous contribution to CAR to aid the world's hungry.

Richard Calandrella, CAR Director of Development in New England, announced this week that his office had received a donation of $750.00 from the school with instructions that it be assigned to help support CAR's World Hunger Fund.

Calandrella noted that the March of 1975 a contribution of $1,000 was received from West Junior High School, also to aid the hungry.

Both efforts were guided by faculty member Bruce Dewey with the active involvement of a student committee who planned such things as skip-a-meal, foodless bake sale, rice and water meal, a dance, and other fund raising and awareness projects.

To deal with domestic hunger the students also collected canned goods, and this year donated 3,000 cans of food to the Salvation Army.

Army in Lawrence. Student leaders Anne Healy and Karen Landy directed the project.

Calandrella praised the students and faculty for their continuing active humanitarian efforts, and pointed out that serious world problems like hunger, overpopulation, illiteracy and disease can be effectively dealt with if enough people, schools, organizations, churches and businesses were willing to make a continuing commitment like West Junior High School has.

Y Campaign Nears End

By May 31 the current campaign to reduce or eliminate the mortgage burden of the Andover-North Andover YMCA had reached $360,000, according to the report of campaign chairman Robert Henderson.

Thousands of YMCA members, parents of youth members, and supporters of the family-serving suburban branch of the Greater Lawrence YMCA have been approached for tax deductible contributions. Many solicitations were on a face to face basis, but hundreds more were canvassed by mail and last week 492 were reached in a "phone-a-thon" conducted over four evenings from the Andover Savings Bank.

With the long holiday weekend over it is expected that the completed reports of all workers will be submitted this week and the campaign total should be increased substantially as many prospect cards are yet to be turned in.

Introducing Phone or Check bill payer It has convenience written all over it.

How Phone-Or-Check Bill Payer Works

Phone-Or-Check Bill Payer, another Essex Broadway first in Greater Lawrence, offers the ultimate in bill-paying simplicity and convenience. And it's free. One signature, one stamp and one Super Check Payment Order will pay your monthly bills. Or, if you prefer, you can pay your bills by phone. Simply call the Phone-Or-Check toll-free number, give your account number and security code and your bill payment instructions.

Who Can You Pay

You can pay hundreds of Payees through Phone-Or-Check Bill Payer. These Payees (retailers, utilities, oil companies, finance companies, banks, charge card companies, etc.) are listed in the Phone-Or-Check Payee Directory, available at any Essex Broadway office.

How To Get Started

The first step is to open an Essex Broadway NOW Account. Then, after completing two authorization agreements, consult a Phone-Or-Check Payee Directory and enter the required information for each of the payees you want to pay on a Customer's Payee List. The information on your list will be verified with the Payees you have selected, and you will be notified when you may begin using Phone-Or-Check Bill Payer.

Benefits

Convenience is a major benefit. The effort of writing check after check, month after month, is reduced. In addition, your monthly Phone-Or-Check Bill Payer statement shows what you paid to each Payee the previous month, as well as the year-to-date totals. This information will help you prepare tax returns and make intelligent decisions regarding your family's budget.

Come in. Ask about Phone-Or-Check. And remember the price. It's free. Little wonder we're the one to bank on.

Owners Know Little About Tune-Up

The mechanic, his once-blue uniform smeared with grease and faded from countless bleached washings, comes through the garage door, chomping simultaneously on a cigar butt and a toothpick as he ambles in your direction.

He draws nearer and you can almost read a name encircled in red over his left shirt pocket, but by then your heart is beating so fast you can't put the individual letters together in your mind. He removes the cigar, shifts the toothpick with his tongue and leans down close to you, a small smile cracking the edges of his mouth as he pronounces sentence . . . YOUR CAR NEEDS A TUNEUP!!!

It sounds like perfect material for a nightmare, and for many car owners it has become just that. The mere thought of a tuneup of that mysterious tinkering with the even more mysterious inner workings of the automobile, leaves many a motorist in panic.

The stereotypes, however, no longer fit the computerized mechanics' trade, and the panic is the result of a general lack of knowledge on the part of many car owners.

"You do get into a panic situation with a lot of people," admits Buster Birdsong, service manager at Richmond Chrysler-Plymouth Corp. "but it's because they don't understand the details of what it is and why it's needed. And then, when you try to explain what's involved, a lot of people still ask, 'can't you fix it without doing all that?' and things like that."

"A lot of it is that people don't want to get involved with it, some just don't want to understand," added Birdsong. "An owners' manual is given to them when they get the car, but most never read it or anything else to know how a car should work or what should be done to it, or what kind of maintenance it needs, or anything."

The tuneup goes right at the top of the list of automotive maintenance requirements. It is, by far, not the only periodic maintenance required, but it does rate as one of the most important for a smooth-running, gas-saving and pollution-free automobile.

The tuneup involves the two major areas — ignition and carburetion — that supply the impetus to make everything else in the automobile work. The carburetor supplies a mixture of gasoline and air, and the ignition supplies the electrical spark to ignite that mixture and begin the energy train that eventually turns the wheels and propels the car.

"I think the majority of car owners know that you have to put new spark plugs in, I think they know that," explains Clyde Griffin, service manager at Dick Strauss Ford, Inc. "But if the car isn't running right, of course most people don't know what's causing it, and there could be three or four things in the tuneup that could give the same signs. That's when it takes somebody who knows what he's doing to tell exactly what's wrong."

The spark plugs are only the beginning of what should be included in a standard minor tune up. Distributor points and condenser, air filter, fuel filter and PCV (positive crankcase ventilation) valve should all be replaced, battery terminals cleaned, spark plug wires, ignition coil and distributor cap and rotor inspected (and replaced, when necessary), and the carburetor, choke and ignition timing adjusted.

"I'd say there is probably somewhere in the neighborhood of 50 or 60 per cent of the cars on the road today need maintenance work on them, and almost all of it would be right in the tuneup area," explained Birdsong, who added that the motorists are only hurting themselves by not getting the proper maintenance.

"You just don't have the power in today's cars like you once had," Birdsong added. "The octane on gas has been lowered, engine compression has been cut way back, rear ends are geared higher for better mileage, and it all means you need to keep a car really right to keep it running right."

In addition to running smoothness, acceleration and consistency, failure to have proper tuneups can have drastic effects on pollution and gas mileage. Any misfiring in the ignition system (due to wear or carbon buildup) leads to an over-abundance of fuel in the affected cylinders, and the fuel eventually finds its way into the exhaust discharge.

"There's always a question of just how often a car needs a tuneup, and you just can't draw a line at any certain amount of time," Griffin said. "A lot of people get them tuned up religiously, right according to the owners' manual every 10 or 12,000 miles, and then you have a lot of people who don't have them tuned up until they start running badly."

Generally, however, the 10-to-12,000-mile area seems the one most generally prescribed by manufacturers, but even these figures can be misleading.

"A lot of the manufacturers will say their plugs are good for 10,000 miles, but that's just an average. I have pulled plugs out of a car and found them completely corroded at 7,000 or 8,000. And then I've pulled some out at 20,000 and they're still in pretty good shape."

As for the rest of the tuneup menu, the wear and tear of driving a car takes its toll in the same way. Various air and fuel filters get clogged, the distributor points and condenser (in conjunction with the ignition timing) become pitted or burned from sending thousands of rapid-fire electronic impulses to the cylinders, and the spark plug wires, ignition coil, distributor cap and rotor all break down eventually under the strain of the engine.

Newest Oil Refinery Features Latest Technology

The newest oil refinery dedicated in the United States features the latest technology for protecting and preserving the environment.

The 200,000 barrel-a-day installation, dedicated last month by Marathon Oil Company, has $20 million in environmental controls incorporated in its design and construction. Conservation-related facilities include waste water treatment and sulfur recovery plants, a smokeless flare, a cooling system that uses air instead of water, and storage tanks that minimize fume build-up and escape into the atmosphere.

The plant makes extensive use of highly-sophisticated equipment that minimizes fuel consumption. Gases generated as by-products in processing crude oil are consumed in the plant's own fuel system.

Steel-belted Radials Help Conserve Fuel

Within the next four years, the radial tire will absorb more than 60 percent of the replacement tire market in the United States.

Uniroyal Tire Company President W. Herbert Schmalz said that the American "tire market is changing dramatically in favor of steel-belted radial tires." One reason is that they reduce road friction, thereby cutting the load on the engine and saving fuel. This is important in light of the new thrust in energy conservation.

"The adoption of the steel-belted radial by the automobile manufacturers in this country, believe it or not, has proceeded at a rate that has surpassed that experienced in Europe — the birthplace of the radial tire," Schmalz said. "As you well know, this movement is bound to impact on the replacement market."

Radial tires are expected to capture 34 per cent of the replacement market this year, and it's conceivable that by 1980, the radial will enjoy more than a 60 per cent share of the replacement market, he added.

American tire manufacturers also will lean more towards the European design philosophy in the future, Schmalz said, as opposed to the American approach to the radial that places emphasis on appearance, softness of ride and quietness of ride. The European thrust is for performance, he added.

Historic Homes Open In Salem

The usual summer policy of Salem's Essex Institute, 132 Essex Street will be in effect beginning June 1 and continuing through October 15.

Each busy summer tourist season, all six historic period houses are open to the public. In the main museum complex, the John Ward House (1684), the Crowninshield-Bentley House (1727) and the Gardner-Pingree House (1804) may be visited on Tuesday through Saturday between 10 a.m. and 4 p.m. and on Sundays 1-4:30 while the Andrew-Safford House (1818) is open on Thursday afternoons between 2 and 4:30 p.m. The Assembly House (1782) hours are 2-4:30 p.m. on Tuesday-Saturday.

Auto Sales Up

U. S. automakers obviously are in a good mood over sales results so far this year.

Car sales are the best since 1973, truck sales are setting records, and cash rebates are cutting bulging inventories of unsold small cars.

The four U. S. auto companies reported mid-January new car sales were the fourth highest for the period in history — 15 per cent above a year ago. Truck sales broke the existing record.

The 222,922 cars sold in the Jan. 11-20 period was the highest number for a mid-January since 1973, with all but American Motors Corp. sharing in the bonanza. The four companies sold 171,890 cars last year as they recovered from a two-year sales slump.

Ford, with its strike recovery still producing higher than normal sales, reported a 24 per cent sales gain. General Motors, with Cadillac and Oldsmobile divisions setting records, was up 17 per cent. Chrysler was just under 4 per cent.

Despite cash rebates and price cuts, AMC sales were off 21½ per cent from last year.

Despite cash rebates and price cuts, AMC sales were off 21½ per cent from last year.

In the slumping small car segment, GM reported that $200 cash rebates had improved sales of two subcompact models. Chevrolet sold 4,315 Chevettes in the mid-January period — a 20 per cent gain and nearly equaling AMC's 5,326 total sales for the period. Chevrolet Vega sales stood at 3,569 — up 19 per cent from a year ago.

Still topping sales in 1976 is the popular Cutlass Supreme coupe, according to West Street Motors which offers Oldsmobile Cutlass the Number One-selling intermediate car in its price range today.

"The handsomest car on the road" is offered for "exceptionally good mileage." The six-cylinder Cutlass Supreme coupe is equipped with automatic transmission.

Important Factor

Today's motorist has obligations that go beyond the mere driving of his automobile, said Frank W. Rogers, chairman of the Automotive Information Council.

"I don't mean to minimize the importance of safe and sensible driving," the trade association executive declared, "but owners also have to be concerned about such critical subjects as energy, the environment and safety. At a time in automotive history when we have the responsibilities of the motorist been so great."

Rogers noted that it wasn't until a couple of years ago that there was a need to worry about the availability of gasoline. He said that ecology was a word few people knew existed a decade ago.

There are no laws that penalize a driver who wastes gasoline and only a few areas have inspection stations that measure tailpipe emissions. But Rogers warned:

"The motorist who wastes gasoline because he neglected to maintain his car properly is only kidding himself. Hours of waiting in long lines at service stations in many of our major cities is still very fresh in our minds. It has only been a couple of years since weekend travel was sharply curtailed because gasoline was in short supply during the heaviest travel days of the summertime weeks."

"We ran short on gasoline before and it can happen again. For energy, we need to think 'conservation'."

While the industry has eliminated more than 80 percent of hydrocarbon and carbon monoxide emissions from the 1977 passenger cars, the equipment that does the job has to be kept in proper working order. Rogers credited the manufacturers with producing a system that requires a minimum of operator maintenance, and cited the service industry as performing a tremendous task in keeping the more than 130 million vehicles in this country on the go.

"What we are really asking of the motorist is to keep his car properly tuned and inspected," Rogers added.

"In the long run, each owner not only is helping other drivers but helping himself. He is going to get more miles to the gallon and he is going to breathe cleaner air."

Cutlass Supreme Coupe Topping '77 Sales

THE TOWNSMAN, JUNE 2, 1977

Still topping sales in 1977 is the popular Cutlass Supreme coupe, according to West Street Motors which offers Oldsmobile Cutlass as the Number One-selling intermediate car in its price range today.

"The handsomest car on the road" is offered for its "exceptionally good gas mileage." The six-cylinder Cutlass Supreme coupe equipped with automatic transmission "has an EPA rating of 25 MPG on the highway and city estimates of 17 MPG," according to West Street Motors.

Also included in the Cutlass line are the "responsive" Cutlass Salon and the "luxurious" Cutlass Brougham. All are available in either four-door or two-door models. Featuring Oldsmobile's engineering quality, power steering and power brakes are standard equipment in the line.

The Cutlass series offers "exceptional resale value, roadability, and economy." An intermediate car with "a look of luxury," it offers an alternative to people who are considering stepping down from a more expensive car.

New in 1977 are the completely redesigned family-sized Delta 88's, 98's and Custom Cruisers. Offering a more fuel-efficient design coupled with interior roominess, riding comfort, and ease in handling, they also have the latest in safety features, according to Oldsmobile. A variety of cars "to fit all needs and pockets from the economy minded to those with luxury in mind" includes "the Starfire, a sporty 2-plus-2 coupe which proves economy doesn't have to be dull" and Omega, "the compact family car for young and old alike."

In addition to the 88's featured as "Oldsmobile's finest family car" and the 98's offered as "the thinking man's luxury car," the Toronado is featured as "a luxury sports car with a classic front wheel drive."

The agency, which is located at 134 West St., is the oldest dealership in Greater Lawrence. Founded in 1919 by Max M. Nevins, firm president, the firm has developed a reputation for sales and service which brings back approximately 85 per cent of their customers for repeat sales, according to agency vice-president Sidney Zussman.

The employees of West Motors have all been with the company for at least five years. Sidney Frankel is treasurer, Lee Weiner is business manager and Douglas Stott is service manager. Hubert Camire is sales manager and, during the years since he first joined the firm in 1949, he has won many sales prizes. Office Manager Sally Pahagian has been with West Motors for more than 32 years and sales representative Wilfred Kirkman has been with the firm for 36 years.

Sales have increased each year since 1969 and during the past year the leasing department "has been increased tenfold," according to Zussman.

Le Car Hot

Americans are discovering what 1½ million Europeans already know. When it comes to performance, economy, comfort and engineering, Le Car is in a class by itself.

About the only thing Le Car has in common with little cars is its size.

Only Le Car comes with front-wheel drive, rack and pinion steering, all-independent suspension and Michelin steel-belted radials, all standard.

The result is incredible handling and maneuverability. Last year Le Car took first in its class in 12 out of 16 races. In a race this year Le Car finished ahead of such high performance cars as a Datsun 280-Z and an Alfa Romeo.

The inside story of Le Car's success: comfort.

Forget the stiff harsh ride you usually get with small cars. Our engineers designed a wheelbase that is even longer than some big cars. The result is a ride that is amazingly smooth even on the roughest of roads.

Once inside you'll notice something else you don't usually get with small cars. A roomy interior with comfortable seats. The front seat lifts up and forward so passengers can get in and out of the back without any problems.

Outside we added a touch of fun. Le Car offers an optional gigantic sunroof. We call it a "fun roof." There's nothing like it in small cars.

Le Car is setting Renault sales records every month. Test drive one and you'll find out why it's Le Car Hot.

Le Rebate:

Because of its exceptional fuel economy, Le Car qualifies for the top rebate proposed by President Carter, if such rebates are implemented.

Federal Standards Conflicting

Assuring that consumers will have a choice of automobiles sized to meet future personal transportation needs is the challenge facing car makers today, according to a spokesman of the Motor Vehicle Manufacturers Association.

The industry's success will depend upon its ability to walk the tightrope of conflicting federal emission and fuel economy standards said

Harry Weaver, MVMA manager of environmental engineering. He spoke before the 26th Annual Technical Division Conference of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers here recently.

While not taking issue with the federal standards themselves, Weaver stressed the need for sound public policy making to balance conflicting goals.

"Manufacturers have speculated that meeting federal statutory emission standards would cause a fuel economy penalty of from five to 30 per cent, assuming that the technology to achieve the standards can be demonstrated," he said.

In contrast, the manufacturers must improve fuel economy under the mandates of the Energy Policy and Conservation Act of 1975. The first mandatory level of 18 miles per gallon goes into effect in 1978 and improvements in gas mileage are graduated up to 27.5 miles per gallon by 1985 for a sales-weighted average fleet of cars.

"The 1970's saw introduction of small, fuel economical cars by all of the major domestic manufacturers," Weaver said. "It was the industry's voluntary response to meet consumer demand and offer Americans alternatives to heavier, less fuel efficient cars."

"But there is a limit to how far the manufacturers can go in reducing the weight (and size) of its cars and still produce vehicles that will serve the diverse needs of the American driver," Weaver warned.

"Consumer choice cannot be overlooked if manufacturers want to stay in business. The government regulates vehicles and the industry is compelled to build them to meet standards, but it's the consumer who decides what new car he will buy from the choice of available models."

In calling for sound public policy to balance emission and fuel economy goals, Weaver said that enough doubt has been raised concerning the need for statutory emission standards to warrant additional scientific study on pollution.

"The job of establishing responsible auto emission control standards would be far easier if we knew about air pollution health effects," Weaver said. "There are many conflicting opinions on levels of emissions. Cars have a health ecological effect when combined with pollution from other sources."

"A zero emission from cars, as advocated by some environmentalists, is not the answer. We consider the cost-benefit of the cost-effectiveness of efforts to control pollution to electric motors and exotic power plants," Weaver said. "None of the estimates measure up to the engines."

But there is a limit to how far the manufacturers can go in reducing the weight (and size) of its cars. Still, produce vehicles that will serve the diverse needs of the American market," Weaver warned. "Consumer choice cannot be overlooked if manufacturers want to stay in business. The government regulates vehicles and the industry is compelled to add them to meet standards, but it's the consumer who decides what new car will buy from the choice of available models."

Calling for sound public policy to balance emission, fuel economy goals, Weaver said that enough has been raised con-

Renault Mini-Car

The Renault 5 mini-car has the shortest overall length of any car in its class — 141.5 inches — but the longest wheelbase — 95.9 inches, thanks to its classic "box with wheels at the four corners" design. Renault 5 is 60 inches wide, 55 inches high, with a ground clearance of 5 inches fully loaded.

Renault Offered By Schena

The Renault auto dealership in the Merrimack Valley area is on One River Street, Haverhill — Ken Schena Renault Sales, Inc.

Ken Schena's Auto Sales originated in 1970 on Essex Street in Haverhill and soon located to One River Street in 1972. At that time Ken and Lou Fossarelli, general manager, specialized in used classic autos.

As of Nov. 1975, Ken Schena Auto Sales became Ken Schena Renault Sales, Inc. Several new models are planned for introduction over the next few years. The Renault 5, a 40 m.p.g. mini car with performance capabilities up to 90 m.p.h. is only the first of these to be introduced.

Schena Auto will continue to maintain their Specialty Used Car Section.

cerning the need for the statutory emission control standards to warrant additional scientific study of pollution.

"The job of establishing responsible auto emission control standards would be far easier if we knew more about air pollution and its health effects," Weaver said. "There are many conflicting opinions on what levels of emissions from cars have a harmful ecological effect when combined with pollution from other sources."

"A zero emission level from cars, as advocated by some environmentalists, is not the answer. We must consider the cost-benefit and the cost-effectiveness of efforts to control pollution," to electric motors and more exotic power plants, Weaver said. "None of the alternatives measure up to today's engines."

"Unsettled (federal) emission control levels in the immediate future cast doubts on future automotive propulsion systems," Weaver said. "Diesel engines, for example, are attractive fuel savers, but with today's technology, they cannot achieve the statutory oxides of nitrogen standard of .4 grams per mile."

You May Be Driving With Unsafe Brakes

If you haven't had your car's braking system serviced in the last 12 months, you may be driving with unsafe brakes.

In fact, two out of three cars on the road today have potentially hazardous brakes because of neglected maintenance, say engineers at Raybestos, suppliers of brake products for passenger cars and light trucks. That's why periodic service, at least once per year and preferably twice a year, is so important.

Neglected brake maintenance is usually unintentional, nevertheless, poor brakes are an accident waiting to happen. The reason? Defective brakes frequently respond normally in average driving situations, therefore, the driver is lulled into a false feeling of security and is confident that his brakes are in good repair. When an emergency situation arises, particularly during high speed driving, defective brakes which responded adequately in normal conditions, can cause a car to dive, fishtail, spin or otherwise deviate from its normal path of travel.

The best way to prevent brake system failure is to have a complete inspection performed at regular intervals by a qualified mechanic. This check-up should include a thorough inspection of the car's hydraulic brake system, mechanical brake hardware and brake linings. Worn parts should be repaired or replaced.

"Certainly, we have accomplished a great deal in the last 10 years toward our goal of safer motoring," he said. "There have been scores of improvements like better lighting, energy absorbing steering columns, instrument panel padding, better seat and lap belts — and a lot more. Most of that equipment requires no effort by the owner but it seems to me that people would have their brakes checked before risking their lives.

"Yet, studies show that a third of the cars on the road are in need of some kind of brake service. That is not

Signs Are Developed

Donald F. Cote, of Hingham, has developed an invention which he is now introducing to manufacturers.

This invention presents a card apparatus for storing and displaying of variety of signs from within a motor vehicle. The signs may give safety information, such as "door ajar" or "muffler down," to drivers of approaching vehicles.

Messages such as "have a nice day" or "I'll summon aid" may also be presented. The apparatus consists of a transparent hollow tube which holds the card-like signs. With index tabs attached, the signs may be easily grasped and quickly removed, for manual display, or repositioned for viewing through a transparent surface of the tube. This apparatus may be readily mounted on a convenient interior surface such as a window visor, door panel or dashboard.

The poorly driven car finished the course 10.4 seconds ahead and 10.4 miles per gallon. The other vehicle, driven conservatively, averaged 16.3 miles per gallon. A 10,000-mile year, the projects that the go would save $222 in fuel compared with the driver.

Conservative Driving Stems Consumption

An economy driving demonstration conducted by Automobile Club of Michigan shows that motorists can stem what could be a record-setting gas consumption year by using conservative driving techniques and practicing good maintenance.

To help combat an alarming rise in gas consumption, the auto club conducted a test with two identical cars that showed conservative versus jackrabbit driving can result in a 60 per cent increase in miles per gallon of gas.

The cars, 1977 Chevrolet Caprice Classics equipped with one-gallon test beakers, were driven over a 10-mile long freeway and city street course in the Detroit area.

One car was driven with jackrabbit techniques while the other, which started the course at the same time, was driven conservatively. The test was supervised for the auto club by Detroit Testing Laboratory.

The poorly driven car finished the course only 25 seconds ahead and obtained 10.4 miles per gallon while the other vehicle obtained 16.3 miles per gallon. Over a 10,000-mile year, Auto Club projects that the good driver would save $222 in fuel costs compared with the bad driver.

Auto Club states that significant fuel savings only can be made by reducing near-home travel.

Two persons car pooling to work daily would save 25 per cent on the fuel used weekly by each person. Car pooling for other near-home travel, such as shopping, would save even more fuel.

While both cars used in these tests were in similar mechanical condition, a number of studies indicates that maintenance is an important factor in fuel economy. For example, a previous AAA study reports a tune-up can result in an immediate nine to 15 per cent increase in gasoline mileage.

"Once you've had your car tuned, don't forget about it," AAA advises. Attention to proper tire pressure, radiator temperature and brake adjustment also help save gasoline, AAA comments.

Six steps to save fuel without cutting down on travel are suggested by Auto Club in the following box.

Cooling System Needs Attention

The car owner who neglects his cooling system is more vulnerable than ever to car trouble.

This statement from Car Care Council is based on a study by a major manufacturer of car coolants involving about 1,200 cars. The results showed more than a third of the three-year-old models checked had products of corrosion in their coolants.

The percentages were: One year old: 22 per cent; two years old: 32 per cent; three years old: 36 per cent. None of the cars checked was an "old" car.

The same survey showed that, on the average, nearly half the cars checked needed some kind of cooling-system service: One year old: 35 per cent; two years old: 49 per cent; three years old: 53 per cent. What has been happening is a fairly simple story: the need for smaller more efficient cars has imposed a need for smaller engines.

To achieve performance comparable with that offered by the "standard" car of the past, designers have had to make today's engines work harder. And when an engine works harder, it generates more heat.

About a third of the heat produced by today's internal-combustion engine must be taken away from the engine block and transferred safely to the outer air... this is the function of the cooling system.

Since engines work more efficiently and give more miles per gallon at higher rather than lower temperatures, designers have resorted to pressurized systems in which the radiator cap plays a major role. So, too, does the kind of coolant used to transfer heat from the engine to the radiator where it can be passed to the surrounding air.

A coolant with ethylene glycol as its base not only protects the engine against freezing but against boiling, too. In fact, what for years has been called "anti-freeze" now has to be an atisurge, anti-foam, anti-steam, anti-corrosion, anti-boil "anti-freeze."

If a 50-50 mixture of water and a reliable brand of coolant is used in a system pressurized to about 15 pounds per square inch, the boiling point is raised to about 265 degrees F (about 129 degrees C) and the freezing is lowered to about 34 degrees F.

Car Care Council points out that the old idea of a "permanent" coolant is obsolete. Certainly, a high quality coolant mixed with water in that 50-50 proportion will continue to provide protection against freezing year after year.

However, the higher engine temperatures of the modern car will break down the corrosion inhibitors in the coolant much more quickly than in past years.

Rust Expensive, Dangerous

Is the body of your car beginning to resemble Swiss cheese?

Cars are rusting faster than ever, due in part to the approximately nine million tons of salt used on the roads yearly. The severity of last Winter's weather may have set a record for salt use.

According to the Automotive Parts and Accessories Association, rust and corrosion can add $100 a year to a car's depreciation.

APAA estimates that there are more than 50 million cars in the "salt belt," that area of the country where chlorides are used to maintain traffic flow during freezing months.

While these compounds are excellent at keeping roads and streets passable and safe, they do considerable damage to the unprotected vehicles that travel treated roads.

Rusting cars are expensive to their owners and even dangerous.

Yet preventive treatments by a rust-proofing service or a do-it-yourselfer within the first 3,000 miles of the vehicle's purchase can eliminate the problems.

Many rust-proofing companies do an excellent job of providing this service for auto and truck owners. Because rust proofing is a high-labor job involving skill, time, patience and a relatively low cost product, the charge for this service must be sufficient to pay for the labor, material and a modest profit for the operator of the service.

The charge, however, is one that most owners defer or forego completely. This is, in reality, a poor business decision. The charge of $100 to $130 is one that is returned many times in the form of higher resale value for the vehicles, reduced or eliminated need for body work and cosmetic repairs, better frame protection in a crash, and a reduction of squeaks and rattles during the period of car ownership.

In three years, a treated car in the salt belt can be worth $300-$500 more than untreated car.

For do-it-yourselfers, do-it-yourself rust-proofing kits have been developed that, used and applied as directed, will give the same measure of protection as professionally applied treatments, at about a fifth or less of the cost.

They can even halt rust on older cars where rust problems have already begun. Cars of uninitiated construction especially need this treatment, particularly if they are expected to be used into advance age.

For periodic maintenance, APAA advises that you keep your car clean, wax at least twice a year, and always wash your car as soon as feasible after driving in the rain, snow or slush. The wash water carries away those corrosive chemicals that cause rust.

ATION

A Man Most Qualified

The selectmen will be interviewing candidates this week to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Alan F. French in April. The four remaining members of the board intend to elect the fifth member at their regular meeting on June 13.

There are ten candidates who have submitted their names for consideration and all present laudable credentials for the position.

One, however, seems to stand out, and we feel, would be most attentive to the town's needs at this particular time.

Robert A. Watters, a three term member of the board, and its chairman for three years, would not only serve the board and the town well, but also fit into a pattern set in recent years for filling vacancies on elective boards.

Mr. Watters, in expressing an interest in serving out the term, has indicated he would not seek election to a full term in the annual town election next March.

When school committee vacancies in recent years were created, the selectmen, which had the power to elect, more or less stipulated that the appointee not be interested in seeking election to a full term.

On both occasions the person appointed filled out the board for the remaining months until the town's electorate was allowed to make a full decision.

School board vacancies are filled by joint meeting of the school committee and the selectmen, thus the five member board of selectmen held the decisive power, if voting in unanimity.

It would seem that the stipulations placed for filling the school board, could easily be followed in the choice of a fifth member of the board of selectmen.

Mr. Watters, a retired businessman, has a long record of service to the town of Andover.

In addition to this service on the board of selectmen, he was chairman of the Finance Committee during the transition years which saw Andover go into the town manager form of government.

As chairman of the selectmen, Mr. Watters served as sort of an acting manager during the period after Richard J. Bowen had left and J. Maynard Austin was appointed. While it was not a part of the duties of a selectmen, Mr. Watters took the time to visit the town house daily to oversee general operations during the interim period.

He was also chairman of the town's first Industrial Development Commission, and headed a special committee to examine the town's recreational needs.

In his retirement years, Mr. Watters has continued to serve as a trustee and member of the board of investment of the Essex Broadway Savings Bank, and with hospital boards and other civic and health organizations.

Based on his displayed interest in the community and his willingness to serve, it would seem that the selection of Mr. Watters as selectman would be most appropriate.

Timing And Affordability

A special study is now underway to determine need, cost and desirability of the townspeople to support an arts center and auditorium for the town.

There is little doubt of the merits of such a facility for the town.

But, as the study gets underway, we harken back a bit to the hue and cry of all town meetings regarding whether the town can afford a particular project at this particular time.

Affordability always accompanies a major project, such as school construction, and in the case of the new high school, a decade ago, it was felt that a million dollars could be saved by lopping off a proposed auditorium.

Special teaching stations for music and art, were thus consolidated within the building complex, which could have been accommodated in the auditorium portion.

The town saved a million dollars then.

Now there is need for such a facility, as evidenced by fine gymnasium facilities for athletes, but nothing for those not possessing physical or athletic ability.

Ten years later, the town is no better off financially, and maybe not even as well off as it was then.

But, the arts, if you will, are still suffering from the lack of facilities, and the only answer is in funding now what may have been easier to finance ten years ago.

Tribute Spans The Years

Barry Lemieux, left, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lemieux, River Road, a member of Troop 79, Boy Scouts, and James Caldwell, Commander of American Legion Post 8, prepare to place wreath in tribute to Andover's veterans during Memorial Day exercises Monday morning at Memorial Auditorium.

WEEKLY SPECIAL

Agnew, Aching to Talk Is Biding His Time

by Jack Anderson
with Joe Spear

WASHINGTON -- Ex-Vice President Spiro Agnew would like the same opportunity as Richard Nixon to tell his story to the nation. But sources close to Agnew say he won't talk until the statute of limitations runs out on possible criminal charges.

He has already started, meanwhile, on his memoirs. From his associates, we have learned some of the points he will make.

First, he will claim that he violated no laws. The money he accepted from contractors, he will insist, did not determine who got the contracts. He will also contend that it was common practice for contractors to provide expense money to state officials.

Agnew will accuse the White House of bringing "terrible pressures" on him to give up the vice presidency. He will blame Nixon for letting him down. In Agnew's view, Nixon feared Agnew would lose his fight to stay in office. This would have set a bad precedent for Nixon's own struggle against impeachment.

Agnew will also accuse then-Atty. Gen. Elliot Richardson of coveting the presidency for himself. Agnew believes that Richardson looked upon him as a rival and wanted him out of the way. Agnew will charge that Richardson threatened to put him behind bars. Agnew felt compelled to resign in exchange for a deal to keep out of jail.

In private conversations, Agnew has described the Nixon crowd as "ruthless." He has also hinted about personal pressures on him. Our own sources say that the Justice Dept. was holding sex charges over his head. The government prosecutors had received allegations that a Maryland contractor provided Agnew with a call girl in exchange for government favors.

We should add that Agnew is fully aware of these allegations but calls them "ridiculous."

Nixon's Vendetta: Sources close to Richard Nixon agree he was paranoid in the 1960s about the anti-war demonstrators. Shaggy hair was enough provocation to set him off.

Now we've learned that he hounded the shaggy-hair generation not only at home but abroad. He assumed they were all drug users. So he brought enormous pressure on foreign governments to throw the book at American drug offenders.

The result was that young Americans, with long hair, were arrested and imprisoned from Bangkok to Bogota. Many were arrested for possessing only a pinch of marijuana. Others were jailed on purely circumstantial evidence which would never stand up in U.S. courts.

Often, their rights were blatantly violated. They were brutally beaten, tortured with electric prods and thrown into pig-sty prisons. Today, more than 1,800 young Americans are still stuck in foreign prisons.

Most of them could have been shipped home instead of convicted abroad. The British government, in similar circumstances, arranged for its citizens to be deported.

But Nixon didn't want these youthful offenders deposited back in the United States. They were deliberately left to the vagaries of the foreign legal systems. In fact, the Nixon administration actually helped to finance some of the foreign police who hounded the long-hair Americans.

President Carter is changing the Nixon policy. The State Dept. has now instructed its consulates to attempt to get small-drug offenders deported to America. Orders have also gone out to our embassies to protect the rights of imprisoned Americans.

Film Capital: Washington is in competition with Hollywood as one of the world's film-making capitals. The studios are hidden in the granite compounds of government. But they contain $2 billion worth of equipment, employ 23,000 camera crewmen and produce $500 million worth of film each year.

These government movies aren't going to win any Academy Awards, unless an award is created for the most boring movies. Films have been made on every conceivable subject from soil to soybeans.

The Agriculture Dept. sent a film crew all the way to French Guinea to film a movie about "Killer Bees." The officials wanted to show that the bees aren't as vicious as they have been portrayed. It cost the taxpayers $10,000 to tell the bees' side of the story.

But we've got news for the government movie makers. We've just seen a private memo to President Carter. White House aides are questioning the huge outlay for films that few people ever see. There will be some cutbacks in government movies.

Broken Promise: Most federal employees are like the three monkeys who see no evil, hear no evil and speak no evil. But there is a special breed who expose waste and wrongdoing. They are called the "whistle blowers."

Some take their evidence to Congress. Others come to us. They usually demand confidentiality. They know what happens to a whistle blower who dares to make public charges.

He may be transferred to some far-off location. Or he may be stripped of his title and staff. He probably will lose the little privileges that used to go with his job. Suddenly, he also starts receiving bad efficiency reports. In some cases, these add up to charges that are brought against him.

Whistle blowers have no legal protection. Last year, Jimmy Carter made a campaign appeal for honest government. He proposed legislation to protect federal employees who expose malfeasance, misfeasance and non-feasance.

But the proposal never got beyond his campaign speech. Last March, he received a letter asking him to intervene in the case of a Defense Dept. auditor, who charged that his audit reports had been tampered with to protect a major company. So far, there has been no response from the White House.

The whistle blowers still have no protection.

The Florida manatee (sea cow) may be extinct in 20 years. Fifty years ago it ranged from the Carolinas around to Texas; now it lives along the south coast of Florida where its survival depends on the Everglades National Park. The manatee eats 100-200 pounds of aquatic plants a day; one calf is born every three years, Massachusetts Audubon tells us.

Andover Drops Opener, 5-1

By Rick Harrison

North Andover scored five runs in the first two innings, three unearned, and righthander Dave Walsh made them stand up for a 5-1 victory over the Andover Babe Ruth baseball team in the 1977 Greater-Lawrence League seasonal opener for both clubs last Sunday at Grogan's Field.

Walsh fired a four-hitter at the locals, striking out five and walking just two enroute to the victory.

Bob Patterson was the tough-luck loser for Andover, going the distance with an eight-hitter, fanning five and walking three.

North Andover grabbed a 3-0 edge in the bottom of the first inning, but all of the runs were tainted.

Walsh led off and reached on a two-base throwing error, the only Andover miscue in the game, as hit bunt was misplayed.

Consecutive singles by Rich Roche and Howie Coon accounted for one run. Patterson then induced clean-up hitter Mark Androski to pop out, and he whiffed Frank Gelinas for the second out, but Bob Walmsley followed with a two-run single.

Andover retaliated in the top of the second as Brian Kelly drilled a long one-out double down the leftfield line, took third when Gelinas robbed Pete Feeney of a hit in the shortstop hole, and scored on Pete Gravellese's in-field single.

NA scored its last two runs in the home half of the second. Rick Camire drew a one-out walk, and successive singles by Walsh and Roche loaded the bases. Coon bounced back to Patterson, who forced Camire at the plate for the second out, but Androski followed with a two-run double to left-field.

Gelinas walked to reload the bases, but Patterson struck out Walmsley to end the inning.

North Andover managed just two singles the rest of the way, and never advanced a runner beyond second base, but the Andover bats were silent.

Andover threatened in the fifth when Gravellese slammed a one-out double to left, but he was stranded at second base.

The final bid came in the sixth when Bob Heidt and Patterson worked Walsh for walks, but again the locals couldn't produce the timely RBI hit.

Gravellese finished the game 2-for-3, Kelly doubled and Wayne Merola had a single leading off the first inning for Andover.

Roche was 2-for-4 for NA.

Bill Stahley made a fine stab of a vicious liner at third base for Andover, while solid defensive play was also turned in by outfielders Lary Larrabee, Gravellese and Steve Rathbun.

Next week's schedule finds Andover hosting Prospect Hill at the Playstead Monday night (6 p.m.), entertaining Tower Hill on Tuesday evening, and hosting North Lawrence on Wednesday night.

They were joined by youth members Adrienne Brucato and Colleen Conlon for "Forgotten Dreams". Janet Cooper and Bev Oliver performed a duet routine to "S" Wonderful". Each group received critiques of routines and certificates of participation.

Also attending the exhibition were Grethen Munn and Kara and Kristin Oliver.

West Jr. High Tennis

In the last four matches the Andover West Jr. High Tennis Team has won two and lost two which makes them 3 and 2 for the season. Andover and Pike School split matches with Andover winning the first eleven to three and losing the second four to ten.

Laura Goodman, Mary Beth Deluca and Mark Mitchell had some fine singles wins for Andover in the first match. While Pam Kennedy and Elise Balboni and Jim Orr and Barry Labell turned in two of the most decisive wins in doubles. Some of the other doubles wins were Larry Buss and Glenn Norman-din, Lisa Birnbach and Regina Fernandez, and Betsy Hildebrandt with Mary Beth Deluca.

The second match with Pike proved much more difficult for Andover with Jim Orr and Laura Goodman the only singles winners and the doubles wins going to Rose Janetti and Brenda Messler, and Howie and Jamie Lebowitz.

The Andover team played well and lost some close matches to Pike.

Andover's last winning match was over Billerica seven to one. Jerry Jannetti, Andover's team captain, won two singles matches. Laura Goodman and Pam Kennedy teamed up to bring in a fine doubles win. In the last match of the season Andover was defeated by Brooks six to three. Jim Orr, Larry Buss, and Gary Flieder had the wins for Andover. There was some good play by Dave Morrisse and Harris Levinson, and Jim Orr and Barry Labell even though they lost their matches.

Cardinals Moving Toward Title

Close Play

Mark Lefebvre of the Pirates slides a little too late at the plate, as Bobby Ruel of the Mets finishes off his tag in Little League action at the Playstead this week.

By Rick Harrison

The Cardinals vaulted past the Pirates and closed in on the first half championship of the National League, while the Indians clung to a slim lead in the tight race for American League first half laurels, as 1977 Andover Little League action continued hot and heavy last week.

Through the Memorial Day weekend, the Cards were 8-1 and the Pirates 8-2 in the NL race. The leaders had one game remaining with the Giants 6-3, while the Pirates had completed their first half although a decision on a protested game lost by the Bucs was still pending earlier this week.

The Indians, meanwhile, had a 6-1 mark in the AL with the Red Sox 6-2 and Tigers 5-2 breathing down their neck. Complicating matters was an extra-inning 3-3 tie between the Indians and Tigers, a game which must be completed before a titlist is crowned.

MAJORS NATIONAL Cards, 4-2

The Cardinals grabbed the top spot by edging the previously undefeated Pirates, 4-2, as Chris O'Reilly starred on the mound and at bat.

O'Reilly tossed a two-hitter to subdue the Bucs, and drove in three runs with a key triple and double. Mark Walsh singled home the other Cards' marker.

Sean Norris and Joe Wescott had singles for the Pirates.

Cards, 10-6

Mark Walsh, Carl Schwind and Todd Lawrie rapped RBI singles to power the Cards past the Braves, 10-6.

Matt Kiley slammed a three-run double for the Braves, while Dave Laporte and Chris Williams lashed two hits apiece.

Paul Tarro collected the pitching victory, and the Cards also profited from numerous walks by the Braves' hurlers.

Giants, 4-1

The defending champion Giants battled back into contention with three victories last week, including a 4-1 conquest of the Cubs.

J. J. Downey fashioned a crisp four-hitter in a fine route-going mound effort. Chris Scarpa hammered a two-run double and Matt O'Hara chalked up a key RBI for the Giants.

Larry Cuddy doubled for the Cubs, who failed to give losing chucker Bob McLaughlin much support at the plate.

Giants, 11-3

Rick Apgar drilled two doubles to drive home four runs, and Mark Pelletier chipped in a two-run two-bagger, as the Giants belted the fledgling Dodgers, 11-3.

Greg Sacco went the distance on the hill and struck out 11.

Vito Caiati sparked the Dodgers' answering fire with three hits, and John Lawless banged a double.

Giants, 11-4

Matt O'Hara secured the pitching victory for the Giants in his first hurling effort of the season, working three strong innings during an 11-4 decision over the same Dodgers' team.

O'Hara clinched the victory for himself, spiking three hits and Mark Lefebvre chalked up his second victory of the week, pitching three strong frames as the Bucs toppled the Cubs, 10-3.

Jim Lowe was the losing pitcher.

Indians-Tigers, 3-3

With first place hanging in the balance, the Indians and Tigers played for 2½ hours and came away locked in a taut 3-3 struggle after eight innings before darkness called a halt to the proceedings.

The Tribe built a 3-0 lead through four innings before the Bengals rallied for three runs in the fifth. Goose-eggs followed for three frames, although both sides threatened in the seventh and eighth with the Indians loading the bases in the seventh without scoring.

Matt Wells toiled the first six innings on the mound for the Tigers and Scott Zimmerman hurled the seventh and eighth.

They combined for a seven-hitter, whiffing eight and walking six.

Jim MacMillan pitched six innings and Jeff Parker two for the Indians. They pooled talents on a five-hitter, striking out 14 and walking only two.

MacMillan went 2-for-3, Pete Byrne laced two hits and Bill Foley had an RBI single for the Indians.

Marc Bolan led the Tigers with a 2-for-4 night, Sean Noone chipped in an RBI double, Zimmerman a run-scoring single, and Wells stroked a single.

Both sides also played outstanding defense throughout the marathon deadlock.

Female Members Of Andover Soccer Make Their Presence Known

By Marc Koolen

This week was a banner week for the distaff members of the Andover Soccer Assn. The girls under 19 team played their first game this week, and although the score was 4 to 1 Peabody, nobody could have asked for more spirited play by the Andover girls. The Peabody girls who have been a team together for two years, demonstrated their skills, but the Andover team coached by Judy Hilton and Tom Flannery gave 100% effort until the end. The scoring of their first goal in competition was met with cheers and enthusiasm. Hopefully there will be many more from this fine team. Saturday morning's game had to be postponed for the girls team because of the high school prom Friday. Other female members did very well this weekend, as Christian Della (roce scored the only goal in the under ten game between Andover I and Andover II. Sherm Drake, the coach of the Andover 11 under 12, reported that Lisa Aiello, Ann Marie Murphy and Kelly Shannon all played their best game of the season this week. This would seem the appropriate time to announce that the Andover Soccer Assn. hopes to sponsor Girls only competition this fall if the interest is sufficient.

The total results of competition this week end was 7 wins and 2 losses. The Under 10 game was a 1-0 win for the Golden Warriors. Both teams played very well and entertained the spectators who lined the side of the field. The difference in the game was a cross from right wing Ted McEnrow to left wing Christian Della (roce who put a fine shot in the back of the net. Both goalies played very well as they both stopped some dangerous break aways. All of the players on the Under 10 teams can be proud of their efforts, as the soccer skills are beginning to make a difference in the games now.

Both Andover under 12 teams were victorious in strong performances out of town, with a total of 18 goals for and 1 goal against. The Bullets had the one goal scored against, but bit off the larger number of goals for with 10. Zack Apgar scored 5 goals, with Ian Yates adding two and one each for Dean Lopresti, John Best, and Pat McClarney. The score was 5-0 after the first 10 minutes of the game so coach Drake substituted heavily for the remainder of the game. As mentioned earlier Kelly Shannon, Lisa Aiello and Ann Marie Murphy played their best game. Tiger Bride filled in at right wing for Eric Swift, and turned in a strong performance. Bullets goalies Jon Crawford and Brian Beckermann almost scored a shut out but Swampscott Mounted a scoring drive in the last minutes of the game.

The Sanborn Strikers travelled toward the coast also, and netted 8 goals in their game against Salem. The scoring was more evenly divided in this game as Ivan Bermajo scored 2, and Chris Coots scored 2. All others scores were single tallies. Tom Duncan opened the scoring, with the assist to Tom Maginnis, the second goal was scored by David Bates on a rebound. On a close indirect kick David Collins set up Chris Coots who scored his first of the day. In the second half Ken Oshan Passed a rebound to Scott West who shot into the net. Ivan Bermajo scored his first with a fine left footed shot, assist to David Bates. As Salem took a goal kick Chris Coots made an excellent trap of the ball and passed to Tom Maginnis who scored. Danny Poore repeated Coots performance and passed to Bermajo who scored his second. The last goal was scored as Brandon Bachner Dropped a good chip pass into Paul Rokicki who used his left foot and scored. The shut out was turned in by Bobby French, Brian Bedell, Todd Lockwood, and Tom Duncan as Coach Valle passed the goal keeping chores around. Coach Valle attributed this weekend's success to all around teamwork.

In the under 14 Division Andover did well with 2 wins and 1 loss. The Andover 1 team coached by Bob Carrick and Gordon Barlow traveled to Merrimac and had the score at 3-0 in the first 10 minutes. After that point Merrimac settled down and each team scored one further goal in the game. Andover 1 is still undefeated and play the second place team Peabody at Peabody Wednesday evening. The Coaches sighted, among others, Barry Lemieux for outstanding play, and Goalie Eric Fredette who with help of the fullbacks has turned many fine games. Andover 2 won their first game of the season against Georgetown 2-1 Coaches Cord Ohlenbusch, and Julius Ren praised the steady play of Goalie Adam Wise, as well as Alvin Ohlenbusch, and Stephen Wennik. Frank Rositto scored his first goal of the year on a rebound, and Rick Apgar scored the second goal with the assist going to Norbert Ohlenbusch. This team has made continued improvement all season long and it payed off Saturday in this game. The Andover 3 team did not fair as well as they lost to a very experienced Peabody team 4-0. Coach Al Ober felt that his boys played very well when you consider that the Peabody team has played together for three years, Brian Butler played an outstanding game in the nets, making many fine saves, and not succumbing to the relentless pressure applied by Peabody until the last 15 minutes of the game, when Peabody scored their last three goals.

The Andover teams won both their Sunday games, with the under 16s defeating Georgetown 6-0. The Goal scorers were David Yates 2, Tom Keefe, John Kinsky, Mark Lucier and Peter Price each scoring one. It was Peter's first goal of the season and he did a fine job at left wing. Bill Donovan and Jim Orr both had outstanding games, as did Eric Brant at halfback who hustled on offense and defense. Coaches Scott Vivian and Jim DiClemente commented that the team played their best ball control game of the season, passing well and also demonstrating outstanding heading skills. The Ales Andovers Under 19 team continued their undefeated streak besting Haverhill 3-1 in a very physical game. Coaches Nick Houhoulis and Dave Clark praised Neil Faigel for his best game of the season. Tony Cammarata played well also. The Goal scorers were Peter Chiklis who scored on a rebound, Dave Johnson who headed in a corner kick, and Peter Hesketh who also headed in a goal. Steve Savaran played well in the nets for Andover.

Next weekend will be extra busy as all the teams play at home except for the U-16 as they have a bye: on Saturday June 4 U-12 I vs Georgetown 11:30; U-12 II vs Lawrence 1:00; U 10 I vs Georgetown 2:30; and U-10 II vs Swampscott I at 4. All these games will be played on the upper Sacred Heart field. On the lower or main field U-14 I vs Georgetown at 1, and U-14 II vs U-14 III at 2:30. On Sunday U-19 vs North Reading for the division title. This should be an excellent game as the first game was a 1-1 tie. Also on Wednesday evening U-12 I vs U-12 II at the upper field 6:30 Kickoff. This could also be for the title in that division as both Andover teams are one and two in the standings. The Wednesday evening game in Peabody could be for the title as Peabody is only one point behind Andover I in the standings

Sport Shop On Top

The second week of the Men's Softball League has been completed and in checking the standings The Sport Shop is sitting in the number one spot. But, there are a few other teams that can't be counted out yet.

The Sport Shop, 2 Andover Auto Haus, 1

The Sport Shop's first game this week went into extra innings and proved to be a pitching duel between Vito Ciati and Dave Downey. Both pitchers worked hard keeping the opposing team scoreless until the eighth inning when the Auto Haus finally scored their one and only run with a double by Diego Vasquez. Charlie Heseltine evened the score for his team in the bottom of the eighth sending the game into it's second overtime inning. Finally, in the bottom of the ninth, John Recesso drove in the winning run for The Sport Shop.

The Sport Shop, 4 Town Grill, 3

The Sport Shop has played a total of four games so far and it seems like these close scoring games. I'm sure their owner Charlie O. doesn't really care about the number of runs as long as his team scores more than the other team.

Doug Dunbar was the winning pitcher. Bill Spencer seemed definitely to be one of the stars of this game getting 2 hits and driving in 3 runs in the top of the fifth inning destroying the 1-0 lead the Town Grill had. Before the inning was over, Frank Hanna drove in what proved to be the winning run.

For the Town Grill, Dave Plummer had 2 hits and drive in 2 runs in the bottom of the fifth. The Grill would have tied it up had it not been for a fine defensive play by John Recesso.

First Motorcycle

Probably the first motorcycle seen in America was a two-wheeled vehicle invented by William A. Austin of Winthrop in 1868. It was steam driven and had a boiler suspended amidship. Now there are an estimated 6 million motorcycles registered for street use in the U. S.

Memorial Day

ficial part of the municipal family.

Commander Brown, spoke of Markey's affiliation with the Legion which he had served as commander and a gold card member. Following the eulogy, a moment of silence was observed in tribute to Mr. Markey.

Dr. Gerald R. Griffin, English professor at Northeastern University, was the principal speaker at the main service at the auditorium, and spoke on the history of Memorial Day and its tribute to those who gave their lives for the preservation of freedom.

Commenting on Andover's annual observance, Griffin praised the town for its participation and annual tribute. "Here in Andover you have devotedly kept the spirit of Memorial Day alive. In much of our nation, unfortunately, today means only a holiday, an extended weekend, the time to put the boat in the water, the time to open the summer cottage. But here in Andover the old values still obtain. You have maintained an atmosphere which so many find so inviting and comforting on this day which is laved with sadness and tinged with memories."

The main service and parade was preceded by special services by veterans groups at all Andover cemeteries.

The parade was led by the U.S. Army Band of New England and included Andover senior and junior high bands, the Clan McPherson band, Phillips Academy band, militia groups, fraternal, civic organizations, Boy and Girl Scout troops, in addition to the veterans organizations, and municipal leaders.

Commander Brown was master of ceremonies for the principal service, which was opened with a prayer by Rev. Donald B. Myrom, pastor of Faith Lutheran church. Ms. Susan T. Poore, chairman of the Board of Selectmen, delivered the Memorial Day eulogy, and Miss Angela Coon, representing the Girl Scouts delivered the recitation of "Flanders Field." Following the playing of a hymn by the Andover High band, Timothy White, representing the Boy Scouts, gave the "Gettysburg Address."

Commander Gordon Cannon of Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 2128, and Chaplain James Caldwell of American Legion Post 8 placed wreaths and benediction was by Rev. James Deery, OSA, of St. Augustine's parish.

The combined firing squads of the Legion, VFW and Andover Co. of Militia, saluted the honored dead and taps and echo was sounded by Mark Grigoli and Paul Giraud.

American Legion Post 8 conducted services at Spring Grove and South church cemeteries, with Commander Brown, Chaplain Caldwell, Rev. Mr. Myrom and Paul Giraud participating.

At West Parish and St. Augustine's cemeteries, the VFW conducted services with Commander Cannon, Rev. Deery and Mark Grigoli participating.

The combined veterans units assembled at Memorial Hall library just prior to the start of the parade for a special service with the Andover High band, Rev. Deery and Rev. Myrom participating. Commander Cannon delivered the eulogy and Katherine Quinn, president of the VFW Auxiliary placed a floral tribute.

rewards of the money, with the input from the town itself the most important part of the total development of the plans.

Mr. Pike said he looked upon the project as being one "filled with love, care and joy."

The selectmen, planning board, council on aging, Andover Haven, and all boards and committees of the town as well as residents would be asked for input in the final planning, to determine what would best suit the community.

Rev. Pike, commenting on the church's tax-exempt status in the community, said he felt this was an example of the "parish doing something creative and earning our way."

Selectman Richard J. Bowen termed the project "one of the most exciting things a community can get involved in."

Bowen and his colleagues, in endorsing the project said that there is an established need, as proven by the number of applications for senior citizen housing in Andover.

Recognizing that the competition for the federal funding would be stiff, in view of the number of applicants compared to the projects to be approved, the selectmen included this in their move to enthusiastically endorse the project and its application.
